

FACING DISRUPTION CHALLENGES TO BIOETHICS HUMAN RIGHTS AND DEMOCRACY

E A C M E

Annual Conference
University of Warsaw

14-16 September 2023

Venue: Faculty of Philosophy, Krakowskie Przedmieście 3, Warsaw

Conference Program

SOME CHANGES POSSIBLE

14 September 2023
13.00-14.00	Registration and lunch Registration will be available during the whole conference
	Stefan Czarnowski Room (Room 5)
14.00-14.30	Opening Session Ruth Horn, EACME President, Paweł Łuków, Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy, University of Warsaw
14.30-15.30	Plenary Session 1: Pandemics and public health emergencies Keynote lecture David Archard, Ethics of emergencies: lessons from the pandemic Chair: Paweł Łuków
15.30-15.45	EACME Paul Schotsmans Prize for young talented scholars EACME collaboration award EACME Visiting Scholarship Exchange Chair: Bert Molewijk
15.45-16.15	Coffee Break

14 September 2023

Parallel Sessions 1
16.15-17.45	1a. Responses to crisis Room 116 Chair: Anna-Henrikje Seidlein	1b. Regional challenges (1) Room 108 Chair: Agata Łukomska	1c. Caring and dementia challenges Room 209 Chair: Federico Nicoli	1d. Challenges for democracy Room 1 Chair: Jakub Zawila-Niedźwiecki	1e. Ethics of AI (1) Room 5 Chair: Yesim Isil Ulman	1f. Clinical ethics (1) Room 4 Chair: Bert Molewijk
16.15-16.35	Kurt Schmidt, Center for Medical Ethics, Agaplesion Markus Hospital, Frankfurt/M., Germany The best preparation for ethical conflicts during the pandemic: watching movies!	Nili Karako-Eyal, The College of Management, Israel Public Health Policy in a Disrupted World: the Israeli Case	Anna-Eva Nebowsky, Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany Moral conflicts in familial dementia care involving migrant live-in carers in Germany and Israel: A comparative-ethical exploration and analysis	David Matas, International Coalition to End Transplant Abuse in China Engaging and involving stakeholders to address organ transplant abuse in China	Marieke Bak, Amsterdam University Medical Centers, Technical University of Munich The 'embedded' turn in bioethics: why responsible AI requires more integrative ethics	David Lorenzo, Institut Borja de Bioètica, Barcelona, Spain Conscientious Objection in Healthcare
16.35-16.55	Marta Spranzi, Center for Clinical Ethics (AP-HP, Paris, France), CESP Paris Saclay, France From "exceptional ethics" to public health ethics. Patients and proxies facing COVID	Fatma Zehra Öztekin Çelebi, University of Health Sciences, Ankara Etilik City Hospital, Department of Pediatrics, Ankara, Turkey, Mustafa Volkan Kavas, Ankara University School of Medicine Department: History of Medicine and Ethics, Ankara, Turkey Ethics issues arisen in the medical care of earthquake victim children: Lessons derived from Ayşe's case	Kim Meilin Kulaczewski, Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany Limiting freedom of movement in residential care for people with dementia – An empirically informed ethical exploration of institutional practices and moral perspectives	Susan Miller, Houston Methodist Hospital, United States The Role of Psychiatry During the Holocaust: Perpetrators and Redemption	Laura Campanozzi, Research Unit of Bioethics and Humanities – Campus Biomedico University of Rome, Italy Ethics of AI: a democratizing approach to the design of New Technologies	Anna Hirsch, Institute of Ethics, History and Theory of Medicine, Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich, Germany Autonomy and well-being in patient care: What contribution can philosophical analysis make in cases of conflict?
16.55-17.15	Rev. Renzo Pegoraro, Pontifical Academy for Life, Vatican City; Fondazione Lanza, Padua, Italy Converging new technologies: on the person, for the common good	Maria Rajka, Dr. Cornel Igna Municipal Hospital of Campia Turzii, Iuliu Hatieganu University of Medicine and Pharmacy, Cluj Napoca, Romania Elements of social polarisation and their implications in clinical practice ethics in Romania	Chris Martin, James Ritchie, Crestwood Behavioral Health, Inc., United States The French Connection: How One California Based Organization is Transforming its Locked Mental Health Treatment Facilities to Optimize Recovery Outcomes	Matteo Luca Burlando, University of Insubria, Varese, Italy Prisoner's hunger strike: juridical, ethical and deontological aspects	Menno Maris, Amsterdam University Medical Centers, The Netherlands Ethics of AI-based decision-making in cardiac defibrillator implantation: patient perspectives	Thibaud Haaser, Health and Research Ethics Centre, Bordeaux, France Ethics committees should monitor ethical opinions of healthcare professionals during pandemic crisis with risk of large-scale prioritization
17.15-17.35	Giovanni Spitale, Institute of Biomedical Ethics and History of Medicine, University of Zurich, Switzerland The PHERCC matrix. An ethical framework for planning, governing, and evaluating Risk and Crisis Communication in the context of Public Health Emergencies	Kazutaka Hirose, Kyoto Prefectural University of Medicine, Japan The ethics of masking at the end of a pandemic: a Japanese perspective	Jun Tokunaga, Sayama Neurological Hospital, Japan Ethical Issues Surrounding the Care of ALS-FTD: How to Respond to Insatiable Demands	Caroline AB Redhead, Centre for Social Ethics and Policy, School of Law, The University of Manchester Lucy Frith, Centre for Social Ethics and Policy, School of Law, The University of Manchester, United Kingdom Donor anonymity and justice	Brandon Ferlito, Department of Philosophy and Moral Sciences, Ghent University, Belgium Responsibility Gap(s) Due to the Introduction of AI in Healthcare: An Ubuntu-Inspired Approach
17.35-17.45	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A
18.00-20.00	Welcome Reception, Faculty of Philosophy, Krakowskie Przedmieście 3

15 September 2023

Plenary Session 2: Humanitarian challenges

Keynote lecture

Rosemarie de La Cruz Bernabe, Benefit-sharing through post-trial access in low and middle income countries: status and ethical challenges

Chair: Kristine Bærøe

Stefan Czarnowski Room (Room 5)

9.30-10.30

10.30-11.00

Coffee Break

11.00-12.30

Parallel Sessions 2

	2a. Perspectives on bioethics (1) Room 116 Chair: Agata Łukomska	2b. Regional challenges (2) Room 108 Chair: Gerald Neitzke	2c. End-of-Life Ethics (1) Room 209 Chair: Federico Nicoli	2d. Reproductive health ethics (1) Room 1 Chair: Joanna Różyńska	2e. Ethics of AI (2) Room 5 Chair: Marieke Bak	2f. Clinical ethics (2) Room 4 Chair: Jean-Philippe Cobbaut
11.00-11.20	Matimba Swana, University of Bristol and Black and Brown in Bioethics, United Kingdom Inclusive bioethics: modifying methodology to transform research	Yesim Isil Ulman & Gülşah Başkavak, Acibadem University, Istanbul, Turkey "Free HPV Vaccination after 18?": A Qualitative Study on Awareness of University Students about HPV Infection and Vaccination Policy in Turkey	Gregory Aiguier, Center for Medical Ethics, Catholic Institute of Lille, France Thinking the end-of-life debate as social learning: a pragmatist approach to bioethics	Antonina Lewandowska, Doctoral School of Social Sciences, University of Warsaw, Poland Polish abortion reality in the eyes of gynaecologists. Findings of a qualitative study	Emilia Kaczmarek, Faculty of Philosophy, University of Warsaw, Poland Fighting loneliness with chatbots? Ethics of self-deception	Manuel Trachsel, Clinical Ethics Unit, University Hospital Basel, Switzerland A scoping review on involving patients and relatives in clinical ethics consultation
11.20-11.40	Joona Räsänen, University of Turku, Finland What do bioethicists believe? The results of a survey to researchers in bioethics, medical ethics and philosophy of medicine	Anna Sierawska, TU Dresden University of Technology, Technical University of Munich Bioethics across the border- the ethical implications of the patients mobility between Germany and Poland	Pola Hahlweg, University Medical Center Hamburg-Eppendorf, Germany Matters about life and death: Palliative care communication about medical aid in dying requests, when medical aid in dying is illegal	Dariusz Miękiś, Doctoral School of Social Sciences, Jagiellonian University, Kraków, Poland Does pregnancy pose a risk to mental health? An argument for permissibility of abortion	Michiel De Proost, Ghent University, Belgium Keeping an AI on the mental health of vulnerable populations: Reflections on the Potential for Participatory Injustice	Laura Arbelez Ossa, Institute of Biomedical Ethics, University of Basel, Switzerland Inappropriate Adaptive Preferences: a Qualitative Study of the Role of the Patient
11.40-12.00	Anna-Henrikje Seidlein, Institute of Ethics and History of Medicine, University Medicine Greifswald, Germany, Marie-Christine Fritzsche, Institute of History and Ethics of Medicine, TUM School of Medicine, Technical University of Munich, Germany Shedding Light on Blind Spots in Clinical Ethics: Towards a New Horizon	Kevin Dzi, Lausanne University Hospital and University of Lausanne, Switzerland How knowledgeable are Cameroonian medical professionals about bioethical issues, and how willing are they to accept clinical ethics structures in their health facilities? The findings of a survey of doctors and nurses in Cameroon's Southwest region	Pola Hahlweg, University Medical Center Hamburg-Eppendorf, Germany Decision-making processes on medical aid in dying: scoping review and qualitative evaluation from multiple professional perspectives	Mario Picozzi, Center for Clinical Ethics, Department of Biotechnologies and Life Sciences, University of Insubria, Italy Participatory approaches for the development of interventions directed toward immigrant populations in the process of organ donation and transplantation: the Italian experience	Wenke Liedtke, Theological Faculty, University of Greifswald, Germany Support with limitations? Perspectives on AI-based clinical decision support systems	Sebastian Wäscher, Institute of Biomedical Ethics and History of Medicine, University of Zurich, Switzerland If you hear it from a doctor, you internalize it." Medical Gaslighting in the field of rare diseases – insights from a qualitative interview study
12.00-12.20	Lucia Galvagni, Bruno Kessler Foundation, Monica Consolandi, University of Trento, Italy Mental health: a new priority in healthcare and for healthcare ethics?	Bianca Georgiu, Iuliu Hațieganu University of Medicine and Pharmacy, Romania Ethical dilemmas and moral distress among dental students. A literature review	Maciej Piwowarski, Interdisciplinary Center for Ethics, Jagiellonian University, Kraków, Poland Is the revision of the dominant classifications of aid-in-dying procedures necessary?	Inge van Nistelrooij, University of Humanistic Studies, Utrecht, The Netherlands Relational care ethics as Iternative approach for respectful maternity care	Rasita Vinay, Institute of Biomedical Ethics and History of Medicine, University of Zurich, Switzerland Gerontechnology and deception in dementia	Maria Aluas, Iuliu Hațieganu University of Medicine and Pharmacy, Cluj-Napoca, Romania Good faith, Immunity and Social Responsibility related to dental procedures during the Pandemic Outbreak
12.20-12.30	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A
12.30-14.00	Lunch/Early career Lunch (EACME representative)

15 September 2023

14.00-15.00	Plenary Session 3: Data driven technologies Keynote lecture Barbara Prainsack, Democracies in the digital age: What are we protecting? Chair: Angeliki Kerasidou Stefan Czarnowski Room (Room 5)
15.00-16.45	Parallel sessions 3
	3a. Perspectives on bioethics (2) Room 116 Chair: Maria Aluas	3b. Thematic session: “Disruptive Innovation in Healthcare through mHealth: Enhancing or Endangering Personal Autonomy?” Room 108 Coordinator: Heidi Mertes	3c. End-of-Life Ethics (2) Room 209 Chair: Jakub Zawita-Niedźwiecki	3d. Reproductive health ethics (2) Room 1 Chair: Inge van Nistelrooij	3e. Ethics of AI (3) Room 5 Chair: Ruth Horn	3f. Research ethics (1) Room 4 Chair: Renzo Pegoraro
15.15-15.35	Jean-Philippe Cobbaut, Catholic University of Lille, France To what extent can a spiritual approach to health be a way to make our health systems more resilient?	Heidi Mertes, Ghent University, Belgium Disruptive innovation in healthcare and respect for personal autonomy: a perfect match or a doomed couple? - 10 minutes	Elisabeth Stock, Institute for Biomedical Ethics, University of Basel, Switzerland Making Advance Directives (AD) during a pandemic – a curse or a blessing?	Emanuele Mangione, University of Insubria, Varese, Italy Female genital mutilation and multiculturalism: the limits of cultural tolerance	Virginia Sanchini, University of Milan, Italy Emerging Technologies and Vulnerabilities in Older Adults with Cognitive Impairments: a Systematic Review of Qualitative Evidence	Mario Picozzi, Center for Clinical Ethics, Biotechnology and Life Sciences Department, Insubria University, Varese, Italy Public perceptions and expectations of organoid research
15.35-15.55	Francesca Reato, Emanuele Mangione, Center of Research in Clinical Ethics, University of Insubria, Italy Health as a duty	Jesse Gray, Ghent University, Belgium Empowerment Through Mobile Health: Three Problems for Autonomy - 20 minutes	Olga Vinogradova, Institute for Biomedical Ethics, University of Basel, Switzerland Obligation to Write Advanced Directives: Blackmail or Care of a State?	Aurélië Halsband, German Reference Centre for Ethics in the Life Sciences (DRZE), University of Bonn, Germany The disruptive potential of AI in human reproduction	Federico Germani, Institute of Biomedical Ethics and History of Medicine, University of Zurich, Switzerland AI model GPT-3 (dis)informs us better than humans	Mykhailo Myroshnychenko, Kharkiv National Medical University, Ukraine, Viktoriya Lazurenko, Kharkiv National Medical University, Ukraine Scientific research in higher medical education institutions through the prism of war: ethical dimension
15.55-16.15	Karim Jöst, University of Augsburg; LMU Munich, Germany Relating as equals in the face of limited health resources: analysing allocation guidelines through a relational egalitarian lens	Respondent: Seppe Segers – 5 minutes Brandon Ferlito, When algorithms replace or support the doctor: Empowerment vs Responsibilization - 20 minutes	Lena Stange, Department of Health Services Research, Division Ethics in Medicine, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany Planning disruption? An empirically informed ethical analysis of moral conceptions of the life course in advance directives	Montserrat Esquerda, David Lorenzo Izquierdo, Margarita Bofarull, Institut Borja de Bioetica, Barcelona, Spain Fetonate or fetal newborn? Ethical considerations in the development of the artificial womb technology	Angeliki Kerasidou and Xaroula Kerasidou, Ethox Centre, University of Oxford, United Kingdom Data-driven research and healthcare: Public trust, data governance and the NHS	Katarzyna Bielińska, Karolina Kulpa, Center for Bioethics and Biolaw, Faculty of Philosophy, University of Warsaw, Poland Multilingual integrative review in research on peripheral debates on progress and development in the context of climate crisis – opportunities and challenges
16.15-16.35		Respondent: Michiel De Proost – 5 minutes General Q&A / Discussion with the audience – 15 minutes	Federico Nicoli, Center for Clinical Ethics, Department of Biotechnology and Life Sciences, University of Insubria, Varese, Italy The request of physician assisted suicide in palliative care: the role of the clinical ethics consultation	George Mendz, School of Medicine, Sydney. The University of Notre Dame, Australia Challenging the 14-Day Rule of Embryo Research	Niklas Ellerich-Groppe, OFFIS – Institute for Information Technology, R&D Division Health The Implementation of Technical Innovations in Outpatient Care – Considering Professional Nurses’ Moral Attitudes in a Transformative Process	Nathan Emmerich, Australian National University, Canberra, Australia Conscientious Objection as a Clumsy Solution
16.35-16.45	General Q&A		General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A
17.00-18.30	EACME General Assembly Meeting
19.30-21.30	Gala Dinner, Venue: “Ale Gloria” Restaurant, Plac Trzech Krzyży 3

16 September 2023

9.20-9.30	Presentation of next year's conference Jan Schildmann
9.30-10.30	Plenary Session 4: The climate crisis and the future of humanity Keynote lecture Petra Verdonk, Climate justice and the role of health professionals and ethicists in times of crisis Introduction: Richard Nicholson Chair: Katarzyna Bielińska Stefan Czarnowski Room (Room 5)
10.30-11.00	Coffee Break
11.00-12.30	Parallel sessions 4
	4a. Environmental justice Room 116 Chair: Katarzyna Bielińska	4b. Neuroethics and Gen-ethics Room 108 Chair: Jakub Zawila-Niedźwiecki	4c. Intergenerational justice Room 209 Chair: Emilia Kaczmarek	4d. Reproductive health ethics (3) Room 1 Chair: Montserrat Esquerda	4e. Digital health Room 5 Chair: Angeliki Kerasidou	4f. Research ethics (2) Room 4 Chair: Sebastian Wäscher
11.00-11.20	Joanna Andrusiewicz, Faculty of Philosophy, Center for Bioethics and Biolaw, University of Warsaw, Poland Interspecies justice in times of the climate crisis	Eike Buhr, Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany Disruptive Effects of the Use of Artificial Intelligence in Neuropsychiatry	Niklas Ellerich-Groppe, Division of Ethics in Medicine, Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, Germany Intergenerational Solidarity in the Coronavirus-Pandemic and beyond – Empirically Informed Ethical Analysis of a Normative Resource for Societal Crises	Manuel Trachsel, University Hospital, Basel, Switzerland Futility and Palliative Approaches in Caring for Persons with Anorexia Nervosa	Bianca Jansky, Institute for Ethics and History of Health in Society, University of Augsburg, Germany Navigating ethics in digital health development – An interview study on stakeholders' perspectives in the German, Indian and US digital health start-up sphere	Tomasz Krawczyk, Jagiellonian University Medical College, Faculty of Health Sciences, Department of Philosophy and Bioethics, and Jagiellonian University Medical College, Doctoral School of Medical and Health Sciences, Krakow, Poland Ethical Issues of Deaf People Engagement into Research: A Qualitative Evidence Synthesis
11.20-11.40	Fr. Maroun Badr, Facoltà di Bioetica, Ateneo Pontificio Regina Apostolorum, Rome, Italy Climate Change and Sexual & Reproductive Health & Rights. How ethical is their interaction for Sustainable Development? A Personalist approach	Marta Vassallo, University of Insubria, Varese, Italy; IRCCS Maugeri, Department of Neurology, Milan, Italy Movement fragmentation: opening new neuroethical perspectives	Natalie Bettina Neeser, University of Basel, Institute for Biomedical Ethics, Switzerland Filial duties and advanced parental age: What are we allowed to expect from children?	Ines Pietschmann, Department of Medical Ethics and History of Medicine, University Medical Center, Göttingen, Germany When cancer therapy threatens fertility – The importance of time and concepts of good life in cancer and treatments that threaten fertility	Kamiel Verbeke, Centre for Biomedical Ethics and Law, KU Leuven, Belgium The Ethics of Doing Research through Consumer Mental Health Apps: Interviews with Researchers and Developers	Kateryna Topoliuk, I Medical Faculty of Kharkiv National Medical University, Ukraine Ethical aspects of conducting research: point of view of medical university students
11.40-12.00	Ignacy Dudkiewicz, Interdisciplinary Doctoral School, University of Warsaw, Poland Why are we arguing about abortion when the world is ending?	Larry Locke, McLane College of Business, University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, and LCC International University An Ethical Analysis of the Risk of Transhuman Subspecies and Germline Genome Editing	Rozenn Le Berre, Center of Medical Ethics, Lille Catholic University, France Thinking in times of pandemic: the experience of mourning in nursing homes, between rupture and continuity	Małgorzata Gawrońska, Faculty of Sociology, University of Warsaw, Poland 'White market' – setting norms on human milk exchanges in modern Europe	Hung-En Liu, Center for Bioethics and Medical Law, National ChengChi University, Taipei, Taiwan An Examination of the Ethical, Legal, and Policy Issues on Mobile Medical Apps on Smart Devices in Taiwan	Joanna Różyńska, Faculty of Philosophy, Center for Bioethics and Biolaw, University of Warsaw, Poland A principle-based framework for ethical research payment
12.00-12.20		Oliver Feeney, Institute of Ethics and History of Medicine, University of Tübingen, Germany Human genome editing, olarisation and 'tribal consensus'
12.20-12.30	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A	General Q&A
12.30-12.45	Closing Session					